have been misgoverned by omission.

There was the usual Easter egg roll-the laundries strike us as being perfectly reasonable.

PEDDLER LEGISLATION

The irony of fate by which peddlers of all descriptions have been given the run of the territory without any restrictions whatever is so singular as to seem almost ridiculous, says the Republican.
If there was any kind of legislation which the Hon. W. W. Pace, a merchant of Safford, desired more than any other it was the further restriction of the peddlers who were overrunning the rich valley of the Upper Gila in restraint of trade of the merchants who stayed in the towns, paid taxes and licenses and otherwise contributed to the support of the community.

Hardly less enthusiastic was Mr. Pace in favor of the new liquor license law by means of which the peddlers have been inadvertently turned loose to prey upon him and others similarly situated.

The existing peddlers' license law was sufficiently restrictive. As to most parts of the territory it was absolutely prohibitive. Yet when Mr. Pace introduced his $1,000 license bill, and during the subsequent consideration of it, not a word was uttered by anyone in behalf of the peddler. There was nothing in his occupation which appealed to the legislators. A $10,000 license would undoubtedly have been as acceptable. The idea was to suppress the peddler and there was no doubt that a $1,000 license would do the business. The bill passed swimmingly to the governor who, recognizing the right of the peddler to existence, vetoed it.

In the meantime, Mr. Pace and his friends were having a somewhat more strenuous time with the liquor license bill. It was made so renovating that it swept away bodily every paragraph in the statutes which directly or indirectly alluded to the subject. Thus it fatally attacked the paragraph relating to the licensing of peddlers. Instead of excising the provision concerning those who peddle wines and spirituous drinks, it expunged the entire paragraph.

It can hardly be conceived that the legislators were not aware of what they were doing. They were probably relying upon the Pace peddlers' license bill, but even in that event they ought to have considered the risk of failure somewhere in its course of the Pace bill, however remote such a contingency may have seemed.

It is now plain to them that it would have been much better to let the old law stand until it was wiped out by the repealing clause of the new law if it had become a law by the governor's signature.

Thus we are again reminded that midstream is not a suitable place for swapping horses.

GREENE REDEEMS
ALLOTTED STOCK

Pays Ten Dollars Per Share for Greene Gold-Silver Stock Allotted to Cananea Miners Last Year—Unique Record Is Made by Copper King.

At Cananea Thursday Colonel W. C.
Greene made what is probably a new record in mining stock history when he handed to subscribers to 3,100 shares of Greene Gold-Silver stock $51,000 in redemption of a pledge made them a year ago. Every cent of the money goes to Cananea people. It came from Mr.
Greene without solicitation, solely in making good his promise, and certainly adds to the many strong reasons Can-anea people have for believing firmly in its builder at all times and in all ways, for he has never failed to make good the word given or the statement made. Entirely outside of the fact of his payment of $10 per share, because of his promise, for the stock is now quoted at about $1.75, Greene Gold-Silver must look better to holders through this display of confidence on the part of Colonel Greene—a display backed by the most substantial of arguments, hard coin of the realm.

In March of last year, Mr. Greene announced to the employees of the Greene Consolidated in Cananea that he had a good thing for them in Greene Gold-Silver and that he wished them to have an opportunity to make profitable investment in the stock, which he made available for their subscription at $7.50 per share. This stock (common) was at the time selling in the open market at between $8 and $9 per share. The Can-anea subscribers were, therefore, being let in at about a dollar under the market. In all 5,100 shares were subscribed for at under the market price within the time limit allowed. Shortly after this Greene Gold-Silver commenced a decline which carried it below $2.

When the decline commenced Mr.
Greene advised the Cananea investors not to throw their stock on the market, but to hold it. He again expressed his full and complete belief in the great value of the Greene Gold-Silver property, with which many of the investors were conversant through a personal knowledge of the ground, and his confidence that the absolute merit of the ore resources of the enterprise would sooner or later compel an advance of the market value of the stock to a high figure. In conclusion he advised that a year from the date of the purchase he would take up the stock at $10 per share from all who desired to sell at that price, he holding the opinion that it would command that much or more in that time in the open market.

The year ended about the middle of this month with the stock quoted in the open market at around $1.75, a fact attributable, in large part at least, it may be fairly said, to delays brought about in railroad construction and development through unprecedented rains in the Sierra Madre, and because of other circumstances beyond human control. At the time of the expiration of the year Mr. Greene was in Los Angeles. Word came from him that he had not forgotten the matter, but that he was advised that there had been some confusion of the stock certificates and that he would have to look them over before proceeding further, which he would do on arriving at Cananea. Immediately on arrival on Tuesday of this week he took the matter up and on Thursday morning authorized the Bank of Cananea to redeem all of the certificates presented at $10 per share. Such certificates as have since been presented for redemption have been promptly taken up and the cash paid out over the bank counters, both at Renquillo and at the Chivatera bank.

Asked regarding the matter prior to his departure from the city Thursday afternoon Mr. Greene modestly desired further information of the report, referring inquiry for details to the bank-Miner.

LATE W. F. ANTHONY

Williamsport, Pa., Paper Tells of the Funeral of Well Known Man

Pennsylvania Grit, published at Williamsport, Pa., in its issue of March 24, says regarding the late W. F. Anthony, who died in Globe last month:

The funeral of the late Walter Francis Anthony, who died on March 9 at Globe, Ariz., took place Thursday at 3 p. m. The funeral was in charge of Baldwin H. Commandery No. 32 Knights Templar, and a committee from Hugh De Paynes Commandery No. 10 of Easton.
Services were conducted at the home of the deceased's father-in-law, Lewis Sheffer, of 610 West Third street, the Rev. Elliott C. Armstrong of the Third Presbyterian church officiating.

Several selections were sung at the house by a quartet composed of Mrs.
Samuel Ulmer, Mrs. W. W. Shank, Monroe Irving and Byron Vandersloot. The knights marched to music furnished by the Repas band. The pallbearers were Fred E. Allen, Frank T. Lundy, William T. Carson and Oliver H. Foreman.

Walter Francis Anthony was born near Richmond, Va., August 13, 1863.
His earlier manhood was spent in the wholesale drug business in Richmond.
Later he became a commercial traveler and covered practically all of the United States in this capacity. In April, 1890, he married Miss Cora Sheffer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sheffer of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony traveled a great deal, but for almost the last ten years had resided at Easton, where Mr. Anthony was prominent in business and was connected with Austin Nichols & Co., wholesale grocers of New York. He was a leader in Masonic circles, having been a member of Dallas lodge No. 396, F. & A. M.; Easton chapter No. 173, R. A. M.; Hugh De Paynes commandery No. 19, K. T.; Williamsport consistory, S. P. R. S., Thirty-second degree, and Irem temple,
A. A. O. N. M. S.

It was about four years ago that Mr.
Anthony's health became so impaired that he gave up his commercial business and, accompanied by his wife, traveled through old Mexico and the southwestern part of the United States with the hope of regaining his former strength. Last May they took up their residence at Globe, Ariz., where his death occurred, and from which place his body arrived on Tuesday night.

Brief services were conducted at Globe before the body was received.
Mr. Anthony was interested in copper mines in Mexico and the southwest and was particularly interested in the Arizona National Copper company, of which T. M. B. Hicks of this city is president. Besides his widow he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Charles W. Parker of Charlotte, N. C., and Miss Beulah K.
Anthony of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Anthony was widely known in the commercial world and had made friends all over the country. Mrs. Anthony will remain in this city for the present, with her parents.
